

Electronic Certificate of Insurance

For enterprises engaged in international trade

The Certificate of Insurance is an essential document in international trade. Over the years as trade procedures have evolved, the Certificate of Insurance is used mainly to support a Documentary Letter of Credit, being evidence of the existence of a Policy of Insurance. Many certificates are still produced by typewriters on pre-printed pads.

ACE Europe's solution

To assist in the production of these certificates using available office technology, ACE Europe has introduced electronic Certificates of Insurance via the Internet. All you need to produce these documents is Internet access, a user Id and a password.

Advantages for our clients

- | | |
|----------------------|--|
| Accessibility | All registered users can connect via a computer with Internet access. |
| User-friendly | The application takes a user through the certificate production process in an easy to understand manner. |
| Speed | The certificate is printed directly by the user for inclusion within the export trade documentation. |
| Security | The certificates are automatically archived and can easily be referenced in the event of a claim. |
| Information | Access to ACE advice on risk management and loss prevention of goods in transit. |
